Election/Restriction

Species Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C.

The presently pending claims are generic to a plurality of disclosed patentably distinct species comprising:

- A specific species of a combination of a tissue submucosa as set forth in claims 3 and 4;
- A specific species a radiopaque marker as recited in claims 6 and 9, for example;
- A specific species of a combination of the features of the biomaterial (10) as set forth in claims 15 and 16, or in claims 27 and 28, for example;

Applicant is further required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species from the respective claims as listed and cited above, even though this requirement is traversed. The combined features of the sources of the tissue submucosa such as a combination of alimentary/bovine, alimentary/porcine, or genital/bovine, for example, are distinct structurally and would not necessarily overlap with one another when a prior art search is conducted. Likewise, each species of a radiopaque marker is structurally distinct and a search of all listed ones and/or combination(s) of such together with other members and/or combination(s) of other Markush Groups would be unduly burdensome to the examiner.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Because these species are structurally distinct, and because a search of one does not necessarily overlap with that of another species, it would be unduly burdensome for the examiner to search and/or consider patentability of all of the claims as presently pending.

Applicant is advised that the response to this requirement to be complete must include an species election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 C.F.R. § 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a diligently-filed petition under 37 C.F.R. § 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 C.F.R. § 1.17(h).
